Troops Mop Up Weakening Communist Suicide Groups in Seoul

AMBUSH RETREATERS

Leathernecks Kill 250 North Korean Soldiers and Take Sixty Prisoners

By Howard Handelman
Far Eastern Director, INS

TOKYO, Sept. 27—(INS)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today the liberation of 400 United Nations war prisoners by advancing allied forces that were tightening a giant trap sprung around scores of thousands of Red troops in south-west Korea.

In Korea's recaptured capital of Seoul, U. S. troops mopped up on weakening Communist suicide groups while to the northeast a retreating enemy column was ambushed and destroyed.

A front dispatch said 500 troops of the column were killed and five tanks knocked out by a task force of the U. S. Army's 31st regiment ten miles northeast of Seoul early Wednesday.

Gen. MacArthur declared that "400 United Nations prisoners of war were liberated yesterday (Tuesday) by our advancing forces."

His first announcement on this action did not state where the liberation occurred or the nationalities of the prisoners freed.

The UN supreme commander's communique, issued at 3:21 Wednesday afternoon (1:21 A. M. EST), said that allied troops inside Seoul "continued mopping up against sniper and machine gun fire."

It said a Red counter-attack in the liberated capital against U. S. First Marine Division troops was "repulsed." The leathernecks were credited with killing an estimated 250 North Korean soldiers, taking 60 prisoners and destroying five tanks.

MacArthur's Wednesday afternoon bulletin said further that a U. S. Army Seventh Division patrol in the Seoul area was engaged in a "fire fight" with a tank-led Communist force. Artillery was credited with knocking out two Red tanks in this combat.

From the Seventh Division's lines at Seoul, International News Service War Correspondent Bernard Kaplan reported that the 31st Regimental task force ambushed the fleeing North Korean column ten miles northeast of the city.

Kaplan quoted a "conservative" estimate by American officers that 500 Reds of this column had been killed and five of their tanks demolished. Ninety prisoners were taken, including three North Korean army nurses.

"It was the greatest victory for the army in the Inchon-Seoul campaign," said the dispatch.

The GIs caught the retreating Communists in a roadblock along the Seoul-Kumgong highway and then proceeded to pour cossack fire.

AT HARRISON HOME

Several matters were taken up at the first fall meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Fleetwing Estates, Monday evening, at the home of Mrs. Lawrence N. Harrison.

Mrs. Harrison, the president, opened the meeting. After preliminary reports, the first item discussed was the success of the "Hi, Neighbor" party. ### E. J. Kinney, Dist. Engineer, Tells of Importance of "Dream Highway"

ASKS SUPPORT FOR IT

Other Highway Officials Attend Meeting of The County Association

WASHINGTON CROSSING, Sept. 27—The cross-county highway or the "Dream Highway" from Bristol to Quakertown was one of the topics dwelt upon, last evening, when E. J. Kinney, district engineer of Pennsylvania Highway Department, addressed representatives of the Bucks County Boroughs Association here. It was the initial meeting of the fall-winter series of the association and was held in the Washington Crossing Inn. The entire evening, following dinner, was given over to a discussion of highways and following the address of Kinney there was a sound film illustrative of the highway system in the state. A question period brought out numerous points of interest to the men about highways in their respective locations.

Kinney said no doubt the cross-county highway was of much interest to people from many sections of the county. He said that with the locations and development of the steel industry in Falls Township that residents of the northern end of the county are as much interested as those from other points. "Many of them will perhaps be working in the steel mill and will want to get to and from the area. There is no question but that it will mean a great boom for the county. We will have to get the people to and from work and get the product of the mill to the markets."

The speaker told of the first stage of the cross-county roadway having been built from Bristol to the Lincoln Highway. "The next stage is from the Lincoln Highway to Newtown. Involved in this is the reading of the P. R. R., the Reading

NEWTOWN ORDINANCE GETS FINAL HEARING

Residents Hear An Explanation of Zoning Code for Borough

50 ATTEND MEETING

NEWTOWN, Sept. 27—About 50 people attended the final hearing of the zoning ordinance for Newtown borough, held in the town hall on Monday evening, with D. Russell Bond, president of council, in charge.

Mr. Bond explained that about a year ago the first meeting in the interests of zoning was held, at which time residents of Newtown had expressed their desire to have zoning. A planning commission was appointed by council at that time for the purpose of drawing up a map and a zoning ordinance for the borough. Two other public hearings have been held, and in the early summer the proposed zoning ordinance and the map, were presented to council for consideration. That body having duly considered the same, and the suggested changes from the previous meetings having been made, the ordinance is now ready for council to act upon.

Dell R. Treddinick, Jr., consultant, Institute of Local and State Government, University of Pennsylvania, Phila., and who has worked with the planning commission in preparing the ordinance, was present to answer questions and consider further suggested changes in the ordinance. ### U. S. Marines Capture U. S. Embassy in Seoul

Tokyo—American Marines recaptured the United States Embassy in Seoul today and proudly hoisted the Stars and Stripes over the building as other U. S. forces smashed at thousands of Red invaders trapped in southwest Korea. Five American divisions, scoring fresh gains up to 15 miles, closed in to deal the final death blows to the crumbling North Korean troops caught in the southwest pocket. Simultaneously, five South Korean divisions, achieving one-day advances ranging up to 34 miles, swept virtually unchecked over South Korea's northeast section toward the 38th Parallel. Suicidal Communist rearguard resistance inside Seoul neared an end as the leathernecks smashed through a Red barricade in the center of the Korean capital and recovered the U. S. Embassy from the invaders. In a dramatic incident reminiscent of the World War II raising of the American flag by the marines on Iwo Jima's Mount Suribachi, the leathernecks hoisted the Stars and Stripes over the embassy at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon (1 a. m. Wednesday EST).

Home-Building Industry to Fight Proposed Cut-Back

Washington—The nation's homebuilding industry prepared today for a fight to the finish with the Federal Reserve Board over its plans for a drastic cutback in home production next year. Authoritative sources disclosed that the Federal Reserve will order in effect Oct. 13 stringing regulations on Federal and commercial mortgages in a move to curb spiraling inflation. In one instance, the credit regulations would force a non-veteran buyer to put up a least $6,000 as a down payment on a $15,000 home. Other strict provisions of the control order would hit home financing under the Federal Housing and Veterans Administration programs.

Rumor N. Korean Premier Killed

Tokyo—An International News Service dispatch from Seoul today quoted the South Korean chief of naval operations as saying he heard "strong rumors" that North Korean premier Kim Il Sung has been killed. Admiral Sohn Won Yil said he heard the rumors during an inspection tour of Seoul. The admiral said informants told him that the North Korean Communist leader was rumored to have been killed in an air raid shortly after the Reds took the South Korean capital early in the war.

Three of The Jury Selected Are Residents of Bristol — District Attorney Says Commonwealth Will Prove That Neshaminy Youth Killed His Father Who Was Punching and Choking His Wife — Allen "Was Crying and Quite Upset."

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 27—Testimony continued to be heard today in the trial of Allen Pollock, 17, of Neshaminy, charged with fatally shooting his father.

Selection of a jury was completed shortly after two o'clock yesterday afternoon, after 47 persons had been called.

The 12 selected are as follows:

Charles T. Coiner, Mechanicsville; William R. Bloom, Warrington; Ellwood B. Stapler, Yardley; Charles LaPolla, Jr., Bristol; Mrs. Winifred Brennan, Trevores; Mrs. Mabel Dimter, Parkland; Mrs. Marjorie B. Andriola, Morrisville; Joseph D. Crudo, Bristol; Watson Rocker-fellow, Forrest Grove; Joseph Argenti, Wheatshaf; Joseph Bianco, Bristol; Mrs. Dorothy W. Kilpatrick, Coopersburg. The two alternates drawn are Arthur L. Collins, Warminster; Robert W. Crouthamel, Ivyland.

Bucks County District Attorney

Willard S. Curtin said the Commonwealth would prove that the 17-year-old Neshaminy youth shot and killed his father, Irving, 55, on the night of July 11.

He told the jury of eight men, four women, and two men alternates that evidence would show Allen fired a shotgun at his father as the elder Pollock was punching and choking his wife, Mamie, in the bedroom of their Neshaminy home.

Allen, neatly dressed and listening with apparent calm, heard the first witness give preliminary testimony as to the cause of death. Dr. William S. Haeckler, the Pollock family physician, said he was called to their home soon after the shooting and found the father dead of what appeared to be a gunshot wound in the back of the head. He

HOW TO SAVE ON TAXES

With taxes to go up on October 1—and up again, probably, after election—bachelors will be up against the proposition of deciding which they consider the lesser of two evils. They can escape paying an income tax increase by getting married, or vice versa. If freedom is the right to choose among evils, they are still free, either way.

Those who are already married have no such choice. But if any are contemplating divorce, they may want to reconsider. The added costs of divorce because of higher taxes will soon be higher than they were. Will the budget stand it?

This rather sounds as if being happily married, from the standpoint of the tax collector, were its own reward. That isn't strictly true, though. In states which had no community-property provisions in 1948, the application of such provisions under the 1948 income tax law works decidedly to the advantage of persons who are married. There seems to be no prospect that this relative advantage will not be retained.

Over and above the usual exemptions for dependents, the community property feature of the law enables married persons to pay lower surtax rates. In the lower brackets these provisions make relatively little difference. But for higher incomes the difference is so great that a fellow can hardly afford to be a bachelor.

Thus on the expected tax increase for 1951, a bachelor with an annual income of $5,000 will save only $184 in taxes if he marries, or 19 percent of what he would otherwise pay. But the unmarried male with an income of $20,000 will save $2,070, or 30 percent of what he would pay. Under such circumstances it is better to marry than to be burned up over tax increases.

IMPROVED TANKS

Latest thing in military equipment so far as tanks are concerned has gone into action against the communists in Korea. Named in honor of the late General Patton, the weapon is described as the answer to Russian-made T134 tanks used by the communists.

This new weapon is held to be an improvement over the Pershing tank, and to be more deadly than the famous German 88 which caused so much havoc in the last war. It moves faster, has thicker armor, and carries a 90-millimeter gun that walks on wider tread and is more maneuverable. It throws shells three times faster than sound, hitting before they are heard. It has a powerful, souped-up motor, and all in all is a most deadly weapon.

How many are on the scene in Korea has not been announced. But it is known that other weapons are being made available for American forces.

If September weather continues in its present form there will be general regret that the month is only 30 days long.

START WITH FIVE LARGE ROOMS

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

FOR those who want a small but gracious home, the Cape Cod cottage never goes out of fashion. Today's house combines this popular style with Colonial stone walls and a modern picture window, making a home that would grace any community.

One of the front walls of the house and the flower box under the living room window are stone. The other exterior walls are constructed of wood shingles. The interesting latticed porch may either be screened or glazed.

Inside, there are five large rooms. A stairway from the vestibule to the second floor makes the addition of upstairs bedrooms possible.

A large, roomy closet is conveniently located in the vestibule. To the right of this entrance, is the good-sized living room. A modern picture window and an attractive fireplace are two features here.

The dining room and kitchen are adjacent to each other at the back of the house. There are two entrances here—one in the dining room opens onto the porch; the other, in the kitchen, is convenient for grocery deliveries.

The master bedroom looks out on the front of the house, and has a large 16-paned window. The other bedroom is smaller and commands a view of the yard.

There is adequate storage space in this home. The architect provided special closets for brooms and linen, plus four 'clothing closets.

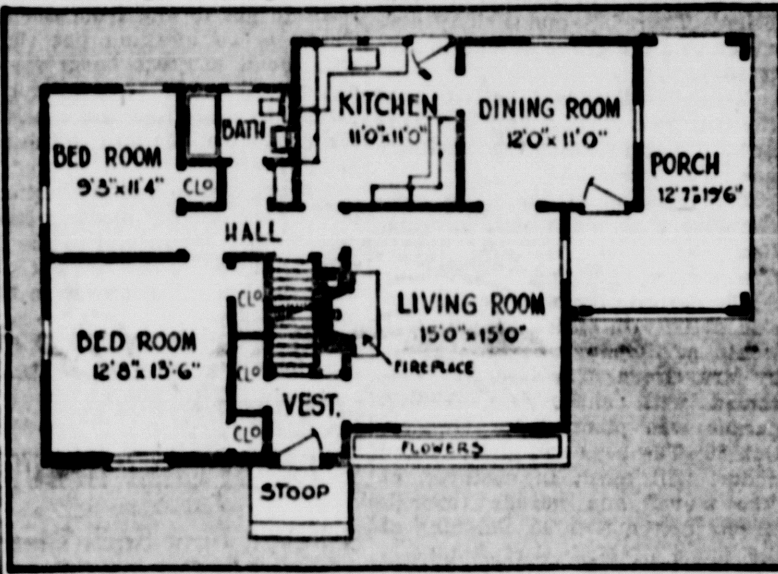

Ceilings are 8 feet high in the living area; 7 feet high in the basement. The house and porch comprise 23,530 cubic feet.

An information sheet giving sketches and diagrams, which will enable you to judge whether this is the house for you, is available. Send a self-addressed stamped envelope to this newspaper for the name and address of the firm from which this sheet may be obtained. Ask for "The Lester."

To arrive at a general estimate of the construction cost of this house, ascertain construction costs per cubic foot in your locality, then multiply this by the number of cubic feet given here. The result should be within 10 per cent either way of the cost.

THE FRONT WALLS of this attractive Colonial home are stone, which also makes the flower box. The other exterior walls are constructed of wood shingles. The general architecture is modified Cape Cod style. The large picture window over the flower box adds a modern note.

THE ORIGINAL PLANS provide for five good-sized rooms downstairs. The vestibule stairway is ready for use if upstairs rooms are added.

of Squadron 4, Troop D, with headquarters in Bethlehem, announced. Sgt. Swann enlisted in the State Police on April 1, 1938, and on December 16, 1948, he was made a corporal. A native of Perkiomenville, Montgomery county, he is married to the former Louise Kappes, Catasauqua.

Two troopers now with the Bethlehem barracks will be transferred to the Langhorne sub-station. They are Edward Munchberg and Franklin Newton. With the transfers of these men, 16 State Police will be stationed at Langhorne.

Because of the absence of scheduled speaker, William Eeher, a member of the staff of Byberry State Hospital, Philadelphia, who was to have given a talk on psychology before the Plumsteadville Grange, Friday evening, a program of an impromptu nature was presented before about 40 persons.

Highlighting this was the reading by Raymond Steele of an advertisement of a sale to have been held on the property of a farmer in Kentucky in 1842. Among the things offered for sale were several oxen and whiskey and brandy by the barrel.

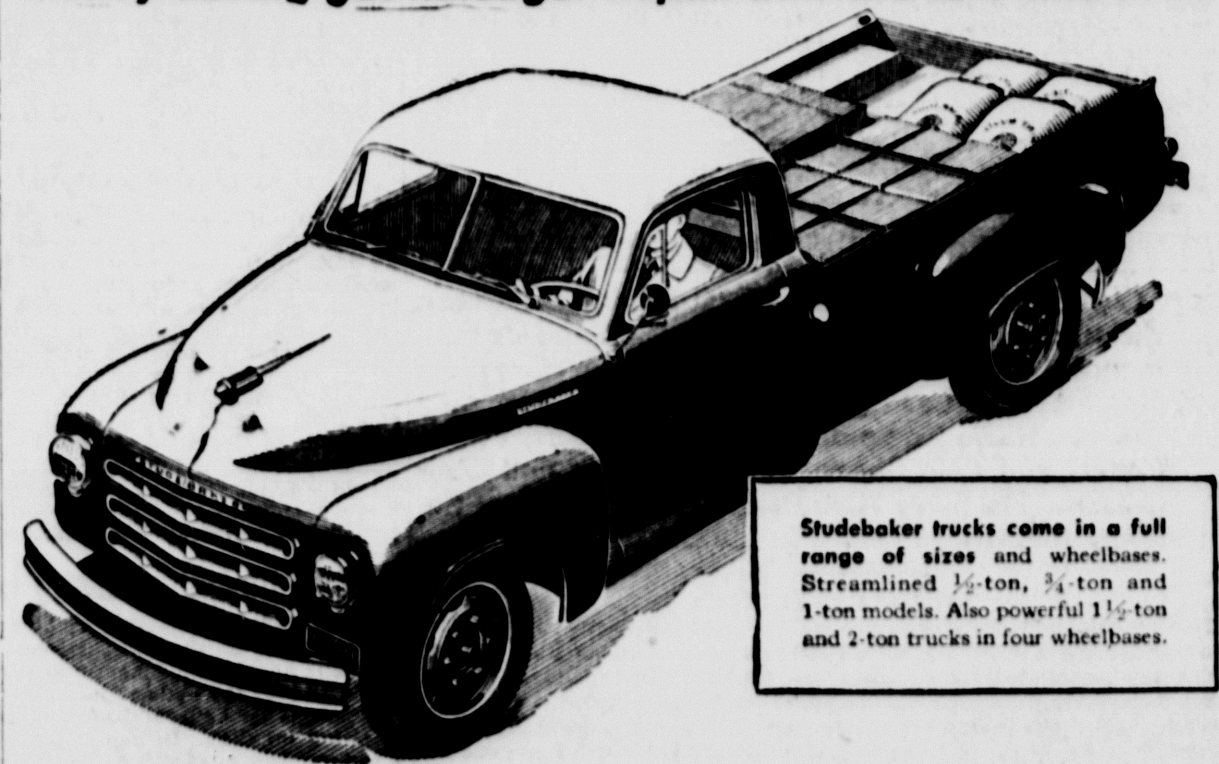

The farmer also offered for sale six slaves, whose ages and working qualities were described. The owner specified in his advertisement that the slaves could not be sold separately.

The program, which was in charge of the lecturer, Harold Yoder, included group singing, piano solo, Gladys Mitman, a quiz and a performance of magic and a talk of a humorous nature by Dudley Winter.

A greater part of the evening was devoted to preparing a slate of candidates prior to the election, which will be held at the next meeting on October 6th.

Harold R. Layman at the brake control of a PRR freight car

Railroadman

We don't know the destination of the Pennsylvania Railroad car that's carrying Harold Layman in the picture above...but we do know that many freight cars, on many railroads, are needed to deliver the materials and supplies bought by Bell Telephone every month.

Thus railroadmen, too, are among the many skilled people whose jobs depend, in part, on Bell Telephone purchases.

Any way you look at it, the successful operation of the telephone business means a great deal to the steady employment of a great many Pennsylvanians, both in and out of the telephone industry.

Railroad, the Cut-off, and the Reading branch line at Newtown. It is going to be a very expensive job. We are working on it and it is in the designing stage now. We hope to get it financed at an early date."

Kinney said that the route would by-pass Doylestown and connect with the Quakertown road. "It will mean much to Bucks County and I ask you to give it your support."

Speaking of the tremendous job of maintaining and building highways Kinney stated that there are 40,000 miles of roads in the state and 951 county roads. He congratulated the Bucks County Boroughs Association on the fact that it has 100 per cent membership, all 22 boroughs being enrolled. He said that 406,000 gallons of oil was used in re-surfacing. He spoke of the completion of various road projects in Bucks County, mentioning the one from Doylestown to Chalfont, and from Plumsteadville to the Harrow. He said the Bucks County commissioners had always been very co-operative, as had also Senator Edward B. Watson. Most of the by-passes on Route 202 will soon be completed, but not the relocations, it was stated.

Kinney spoke of the Pennsylvania Turnpike, and the fact that many were exercised over the possibility of flooding Route 202 with traffic. He said that State Highway Department officials do not expect so great a turning off of traffic as some feel. The state reasons that Route 23, which is 18 miles shorter, and a free highway, will carry considerable of the traffic.

The meeting was presided over by John R. May, president, of Langhorne. The invocation was by George C. Butler, Burgess of Doylestown. Minutes were read by Charles Knapp, secretary. It was announced that the next meeting of the directors would be held at Doylestown October 24th, at eight p. m., and the borough secretaries were urged to send in the names of all borough representatives. The next meeting of the association will be held November 28th in Perkasie.

Another speaker was William Bassett, township engineer of the State Highway Department. Mr. Bassett said $5,000,000 had been appropriated for 1950-51 road purposes. This money was allocated to the various boroughs on a mileage basis, and he urged all boroughs to get in their mileage reports as promptly as possible. "We don't tell you how you must spend the money, but you are required to tell us how it has been spent." By way of comparison the speaker said Chester county has 15 boroughs, with 121.71 miles of county aid roads, and that they receive $46,309.40. There are 57 second class townships which get $130,518.16. There are 22 boroughs in Bucks County, with 128.47 miles of county aid roads, which receive $48,885.32; and 31 second class townships which receive $109,882.36.

The next speaker was H. Gafver, traffic engineer for the State Highway Department. Most of Mr. Gafver's remarks were in the way of answers to questions concerning the particular traffic conditions in specified areas. He answered all questions willingly and showed that he is thoroughly familiar with the questions brought up for discussion.

E. R. Hummel, construction engineer, was introduced, as was also W. H. Calkins, assistant district engineer.

A welcome was extended to the association by George Bennett, Burgess of Yardley. The sound film was interesting and instructive, dealing with the highway system throughout the entire state of Pennsylvania.

the naming of the school system "Delhaas."

Mrs. Erna McKevitt told of plans to form a choir in the township. Mrs. Dorothy McCollum told of summer achievements of the Crofton P. T. A. in decorating class rooms, laying linoleum and installing tables.

A letter was read from Mrs. Devine, signed by all Crofton teachers, expressing appreciation to the P. T. A., who so generously gave of their time and efforts in beautifying the school. Miss Martha Stief was awarded the banner and $2 prize for having the most parents represented in her grade.

Plans are being made for a rummage sale in the near future. Mrs. Taylor was hostess, serving coffee and home-made cake.

these suggestions, and council now will have three readings of the ordinance before final passage.

J. Stanley Lee and Edward R. Burnley, of the zoning commission, were present.

"AUNT SILLY"

EDGELEY, Sept. 27—An enthusiastic cast and chorus are at work daily to make "Aunt Silly" under auspices of the Edgely Fire Co. and the Ladies Auxiliary a most enjoyable presentation. The show will be held in Edgely Community Hall on Sept. 28 and 29 at 8.17.

One of the outstanding features of "Aunt Silly" is the laughable and humorous comedy songs that are offered in the production. Marianna McCoy, whose part is played by Anna May Gross, promises to be a great success with her clever comedy song "I've Been Eat'n Corn Since I Was Born." One of the hit songs of the show is sung by "Aunt Silly" herself (we mean herself). The part of Sam Sellem (who impersonates the real "Aunt Silly" and gets himself into all sorts of scrapes and situations) is taken by William Clay. One of the best comedy songs is that which he sings when he is dressed as "Aunt Silly"—"In This Dress There Ain't No Woman." It's calculated to bring down the house. Another popular song will be offered at the beginning of this production by a male quartet composed of Arnold Wilson, David Sperling, Michael Charlton and Steven Koefler, entitled "Aunt Silly Has Come to Town." They will be accompanied by Miss Eunice Wilson. . . . It sort of sets the tone for the production, for it's silly, clever, and it's a lot of fun.

Angelina Loftus who is not exactly a perfect lady in the play is played by Miss Sue Cerruti. One of her songs is "I Don't Want to Be a Horrid Child." In the special production of "Aunt Silly," Angelina is always in trouble, or making trouble, and excuses herself in this popular comedy song which begins "If I drive you wild and get you all riled, you shouldn't be angry, I'm only a child."

"Aunt Silly" is a gay and hilarious comedy throughout but it has its serious moments (about two or three). The interesting story of the play, the hilarious situations that "Aunt Silly" gets into, the lovable and every day characters who also take part, and the music and comedy songs, combine to make "Aunt Silly" the great hit it is, the cast says.

on your hair right down to the leather in your shoes the R&H Co. is playing an active part in your life, and the industrial life of the nation.

In fact, the leather for those shoes had a great deal to do with the beginning of the company.

Back in 1903 a young German chemist named Dr. Otto Rohm decided to tackle the problem of producing a better, more dependable material to soften leathers for tanning than the unsanitary animal wastes which were being used.

After several years of research, Dr. Rohm developed a product which he called Oropion that was superior to anything then being used, and he joined with Otto Haas to set up a producing and sales organization.

The first manufacturing plant was built in Chicago. Soon after Oropion was introduced to the American leather industry in 1909.

The keystone of what was to become the R&H organization was established in Bristol in 1916, when the company bought 44 acres south of the borough, hired 15 employees, and set up a single manufacturing building, a house office and laboratory, and a small power plant.

The following year the company became a corporation. During the first World War the shortage of textile-processing materials, which had been imported from Europe, prompted the company to develop Lykopen, a sodium hydrosulphite compound now used widely in the industry. Soon more textile-treating chemicals followed, including such formidable sounding substances as zinc formaldehyde-sulfonates.

After the first war ended, the Bristol plant continued to grow. In 1918, 15½ acres were added, a bit later the 424-acre Maple Beach tract was bought, including a ½ mile front on the Delaware river. In 1928 the 300-acre farm was bought for experimental purposes, and within the past month another site has been purchased at Street road and the Lincoln highway where insecticide labs. will be tested.

In the last 10 years production at the Bristol plant has increased 344 per cent. Eleven laboratories are maintained, including five control labs, four development labs, and physics and insecticide laboratories. A clubhouse is available for the 1950 persons employed at the plant. More than 50 buildings are now part of the Bristol center.

Expanding not only physically but business-wise, the company purchased the capital stock of the Charles Lennig chemical company in Bridesburg in 1920, and in 1947 absorbed it under the R&H firm name. In 1948 the former associate firm, Resinous Products and Chemical Co., of Philadelphia, was brought into the corporation.

A plant begun in 1941 in Knoxville, Tenn., for the wartime production of Plexiglas was purchased from the government in 1945 and today is one of the principal producing units of the corporation. Another plant was established in Deer Park, Tex., in 1946 for the production of raw materials and chemical intermediates.

Subsidiaries of the firm include companies located in England, Canada and Argentina.

Plexiglas, probably the best known of the R&H products, appeared in 1935 after experiments in acrylic resins, acid substances from acrolein, a chemical material derived basically from fats and glycerine, showed that the resins could be cast in strong, transparent sheets.

Ethylene cyanohydrin, which is synthesized in the Texas plant, and is one of the products used in the making of Plexiglas, recently started arriving at Cornwells Heights by ship, supplementing the rail method of transportation. From the Cornwells' dock the substance is brought to Bristol by truck.

About 70 per cent of the 70,000 tons of finished materials produced each year are sent from the plant by truck, and every day about 50 trucks are carrying a total of 500 tons of finished R&H goods to points throughout the country. It takes about 50,000 tons of coal a year to keep the Bristol plant going.

Reports Given by WSCS Chairmen at Hulmeville

HULMEVILLE, Sept. 27—Chairmen of various committees presented reports at the September business meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, held in Neshamony Methodist Church, last evening. The social period which followed included the projection of motion picture films by Mrs. G. A. Japchen, Middletown township, and the serving of light refreshments by the hostess committee to 32.

The films, in addition to a comic cartoon, included picnic and other activities of many members and friends of the church, this being in color. The hostesses, who provided cup cakes, coffee and tea were: Mrs. E. D. Adler, Mrs. John Cerin, Mrs. Robert Pheneger and Mrs. Japchen. Preceding the business, Mrs. Adler conducted a devotional period, which included a poem appropriate to the scripture lesson, entitled "Twas a Sheep."

Arrangements were made for a delegation from Harriman Church W. S. C. S. of Bristol, to visit the local unit on October 24th; and for Hulmeville members to pay a visit at the Bristol Methodist Church W. S. C. S. on November 14th. This is in connection with a conference plan for interchange of fellowship among units. Minutes were presented by Mrs. William Gotthardt, and treasurer's report given by Miss Grace H. Illick.

Brief report for the parsonage committee was made by Mrs. Frank Harper, who informed that a new dining suite had been delivered since the last meeting. The promotion secretary, Mrs. Cerin, informed that she had represented the group at a recent session in Germantown. Receipts of approximately $44 were reported for the month, this including bake sale reported by Mrs. Henry Mills; plastic sales by Mrs. Phen-eger; and returns from a luncheon conducted by Mrs. Japchen.

The oyster supper, arranged for Saturday, October 7th, was reported upon by Mrs. Mildred Riley. Committee chairmen were announced, and donations solicited for the affair. Mrs. Herbert Rongley is to be in charge of a plastics display table; and Mrs. Adler in charge of a "white elephant" table. A number of girls from the church will aid the members in the capacity of waitresses.

A north district session at Langhorne on Oct. 3rd, was announced. The society planned to order a quantity of dish cloths for sale to the public.

Presiding officer was Miss Elma E. Haefner.

HOLLYWOOD, (INS)—When Ray Milland goes to England to make the British film, "Full Circle," he will have a chance to appear in scenes filmed in his home town of Neath, Wales.

testified that Allen "was crying and was quite upset."

Dr. Haeckler said Mrs. Pollock told of her struggle with her husband. He added that he found a bump on the back of her head "about the size of a half dollar."

Mrs. Pollock seemed on the verge of collapse several times as witnesses related the scene at the Pollock home immediately after the shooting. She sat beside her 12-year-old daughter Beverly, her hands clasped beneath her chin as if in prayer. Restoratives were given to the widow several times as she grew pale and faint, but she remained in the courtroom for the entire session.

A number of Allen's friends and classmates from the junior class at Hathboro high school, which recently elected him its president, were among the crowd that almost filled the large court room.

Coroner J. Alfred Rigby took the stand to identify pictures taken in the Pollock home. Dr. Fred Phillips, Bucks county coroner's physician, who performed the autopsy, said that he "felt definitely" that two shots were fired. A gunshot wound in the brain was the cause of death, he said.

NEWS OF SCHOOLS IN AREA

Bristol Township
Elementary Schools

The basement room in Laurel Bend building is gradually becoming a very desirable classroom. Heat has been installed, and modern lighting was completed this past week-end. A new outside door and modern windows will be added. Painted walls and a painted floor will finish the colorful room.

Interested parents contributed time and energy in starting a "paint up" project in Miss Breslin's room. The "Kiddie's Fair" will be held Thursday, between 6:30 and 8:00 p. m., in the community building. Games, balloons, food, and donated gifts will be available. Three children's contests have been arranged. Proceeds will be used on school projects. The three buildings under the Laurel Bend PTA are the Kindergarten, Community, and Laurel Bend Schools.

As a friendly surprise for the other faculty members, Mrs. Grace Keech, the first and second grade teacher in the Community Building, bought paint and beautified all the classrooms.

Miss Mary Hogarty, head teacher in the community building, had a serious shoulder and arm injury from a fall. She spent several days in Jefferson Hospital. She is recovering at her home in Bristol. She expects to return to teaching soon.

The Safety Program was started this week at Maple Shade School and members were elected to the Safety Patrol by the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades. Those chosen were Josephine Minnickback, Deanna Carson, Robert Coates, Bernard Barrow, Lore Klein, Sally Keckler, Terrance Leighton, Gary Roberts, Sadie McCormick, Ronnie Bucher, Laura Baas, Kathryn Oldham, William Michalsky, David McQuaid, John Wommer, Richard Leuschel, Victor Adams, Richard Trojan, and Robert Buchanan.

Mr. Plank and Mr. Morris are working in close co-operation with the Safety Patrol to ensure strict adherence to the Safety Rules. The Safety Patrol and members of the third grade will be the council to judge those who violate Safety Rules. The council will meet every Friday.

Mr. Plank's fourth grade began their Book Club Tuesday. Election of officers was held at that time. The following people were chosen: William Michalsky, president; William Stephens, vice-president; Ethel Clark, secretary; and Marion Stuebeling, librarian. It was decided that the boys and girls would bring books to school to make a classroom library. So far they have received eight books.

The fifth and sixth grade children are in charge of the Maple Shade Candy Sales. Ned Ebert is the class manager. He has chosen Robert Coates and Joan Altmeyer as his aides.

Candy is sold at morning and afternoon recesses and at noon.

Any profits from sales are being accumulated to buy a duplicating machine for school and PTA use in the near future.

Elmer Heston has been elected as reporter to Fama, the Delhaas Junior High School paper.

Miss Kathryn Krouse, a new teacher in grade one, has been welcomed. She had been ill when school opened. The children were capably taught by Mrs. Maude Griffith Donlin, one of our substitute teachers.

The Safety Patrol of the Edgely School was organized once again under the direction of Mr. George Mukallian on September 15th. Officers were elected for the first semester. Those elected were the following: Captain, John Baker; Lieutenant, Kenneth Orr; secretary, Nancy Smyrl. Patrolmen and guides were also appointed. Belts and badges were distributed. Plans were made for future meetings.

Miss Elinor Chaiter, third grade teacher of the Edgely School, was absent Thursday due to her observance of Yom Kippur. Mrs. Kathleen Bock, of Croydon, substituted for Miss Chaiter.

The fifth grade children of the Edgely School like their basement room because of its homey atmosphere (curtains, flowers, table, chairs, etc.) and the fact that they can move from table to table at lunch time.

The fifth grade children of the Edgely School in the basement room that has just been redecorated by parents and faculty of the Edgely School have expressed pleasure and enthusiasm about the appearance of their school room. Some of their expressions describing it are "light," "bright," "cozy," "pretty," and "just like home." They are delighted with the dainty curtains.

Miss Orpha Wetzler, second grade teacher in Croydon School, has been absent from her teaching duties because of the serious injury and illness of her mother. After a fall her mother, who is 92, has been confined to a hospital in Lancaster. Mr. Robert Ewald, the new fifth grade teacher at Newportville School, is a graduate of West Chester State Teachers College with a B. S. degree. He and his wife both like the district very much. Mr. Ewald is a former G. I.

Fuoco Awarded Physical Therapy Scholarship

Frank John Fuoco, 243 Wood street, has been awarded a scholarship in physical therapy under nationwide professional training program of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Robert Jones, Eastern Pennsylvania representative for the foundation, announced today.

Mr. Fuoco is one of 139 Pennsylvania residents to receive a scholarship since the National Foundation expanded its physical therapy program in 1945 to help combat a critical shortage of qualified personnel in the physical therapy field.

While 1443 scholarships have been awarded to date through the National Foundation alone, it is estimated that 15,000 physical therapists are needed to meet the ever-increasing demand for their highly-skilled professional services. Since the first physical therapy appropriation of $55,000 was made in 1942, the organization has allocated more than $2,000,000 in March of Dimes funds to support the program.

Mr. Fuoco is studying at University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, one of many schools and institutions throughout the country approved for this type of training by the American Medical Association's Council on Medical Education and Hospitals.

In announcing his award, Mr. Jones explained that physical therapists trained under the National Foundation program are not obligated to confine their work to treatment of infantile paralysis exclusively. He pointed out that best protection against the disease, since no one can anticipate where it will strike, is to have trained physical therapy technicians readily available at all hospitals and agencies where polio patients may be treated.

TESCHNER'S RUN GIVES VICTORY TO COUNCIL ROCK

NEWTOWN, Sept. 27.—Bob Teschner's 45-yard end run with two minutes remaining in the game gave Council Rock a 7-0 victory over Delhaas yesterday afternoon in a Diamond 135-lb. League game.

Teschner's sensational run was the feature of the game. He also added the extra point by a line plunge.

Delhaas threatened to score twice, once from the 15-yard line and the other from the 10-yard line. On both occasions, a pass interception brought a halt to the drive.

Line-ups:

Ends: Johnson, Luff
Tackles: Porter, Borris
Guards: Harris, Whitesell
Center: Conrad
Backs: DeCoursey, Teschner, Krowson, Long

Delhaas (6)
Ends: Morris, Link
Tackles: Woodland, Thomas
Guards: Kaiser, Shade
Center: Krause
Backs: Gibbs, Alfrey, Petro, Selleck

Score by periods:
Council Rock 0 0 0 7-7
Delhaas 0 0 0 0-0
Council Rock scoring: Touchdown, Teschner; point after touchdown, Teschner.
Officials: Referee, Morgan; umpire, Diamanti; head linesman, McCoy.

LOUIS WILL MEET CHARLES TONIGHT

By Charles Einstein
I. N. S. Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—(INS)—Joe Louis, who retired for his mother and returned for the tax collector, hurls his pom-pom fists at gaunt interim titlist Ezzard Charles tonight with an old man's scorn for the law that says they don't come back.

And where Corbett, Fitzsimmons and Jeffries failed, the Brown Bomber, modest champion of all, is favored by odds of 2 to 1 to become the first heavyweight ever to reclaim his own vacated crown. This, most boxing men aver, the 36-year-old Louis will do by a knock-out in his 15-round title bout with Charles at Yankee Stadium.

The fight, to be watched by 25,000 "live" fans and millions of televisioners throughout a many-city video hookup, can be a short, furious thing filled with liquid fire. Or it can be the worst stadium turkey since the pre-retirement Louis of 1946 and 1948 was dancing his preening gavots with Billy Conn and Jersey Joe Walcott.

But win or lose—there won't be a draw if New York Boxing Commissioner Eddie Egan can possibly help it—the occasion will help Louis off an income tax hook that drove him from the circus and exhibition trail and back into the title tent. Joe's current taxes are paid, but his back revenue is wanting, to the total of about $150,000.

Louis' last official fight—his 25th title defense, against Walcott at the stadium more than two years ago—was the one after which he promised to lay off for good, "for my mother." He had reigned as heavyweight champion for nearly 12 years, longer than any other man.

WASHINGTON CROSSING, Sept. 27.—The Bucks County Federation of Women's Clubs was a recent cash contributor to the museum fund of Washington Crossing Park. The contribution was made by the conservation and garden department of the federation, of which Mrs. Earl H. Tomb, Bristol, is a past chairman. The federation has long been actively interested in the park and it was during Mrs. Tomb's chairmanship of the conservation and garden department that the federation assumed sponsorship of the educational trail at Bowman's Hill State Wildflower Preserve.

This Alan Holton, former Township back now with Bristol High, showed plenty of speed against Catholic and did most of the gaining. Give the youngster a little interference and he will cause all the Warriors' opponents plenty of headaches.

St. Ann's appears to be just as strong as it was in 1949 when it won the Northeast Conference crown. Coach "Pete" Borneice has a squad of 37 players. Joe Roe is assisting Borneice in coaching.

"Spike" Scordia, manager of the "Saints" baseball team, added the regular season championship of the Trenton Industrial League to his laurels and is now gunning for the playoff crown. Under the management of Scordia, St. Ann's has won baseball championships for five straight seasons.

At the recent Tri-County League baseball banquet, Earl Wagner, of Voltz-Texaco, and "Frankie" Pursell, of Flannery's, were presented with trophies for winning pitching and batting honors, respectively.

Trenton Catholic outweighed Bristol High by over a 30 pound team advantage in their game last Monday night. It is doubtful whether the Catholic-Bristol gridiron series will be continued because of the Trenton team's superiority.

Rumors have it that Notre Dame scouts have been looking over this Don Wollman, 210-pound TC half-back who scored three touchdowns against the Warriors. Wollman is also a track star and can certainly carry his weight with his speed.

Despite her fine work since assuming the role of girls' coach at Bristol High, Barbara Yerkes received a setback last week when only 18 girls reported for hockey practice.
